This site is perfect if you're wanting to download a certain episode or just an entire season of a TV show. Torrent website is one of the best torrents sites in the internet. It provides all kinds of torrents from movies, games, music, e-books and much more in a single place for free downloading. A large amount of content with a huge database has made it famous among millions of users around the globe. The Mastram website does not reveal anything about who runs it or who owns it, but the domain name was registered in 2011 and attempts to find out information from past background checks have been unsuccessful. The site first launched in 2011 but it became popular only in 2015. It has since then continued to grow and expand its content, which is why it is regarded as one of the best torrent sites on the internet today. The Mastram website provides users with free access to thousands of movies, games, music files and more. It has all kinds of media content divided into categories like Movies, TV Shows, Anime, etc. Using this website is simple as the navigation menu on the homepage is structured well. Also, there are sections that point you to sections where you will find quality content that suits your taste. The site also has an FAQs section for those who need any further clarification. The Mastram website is available in most of the languages, but the English version is considered the most complete. A majority of content on this site is in Hindi, but there are also translated versions to French, Spanish, Romanian and Arabic. Like other torrent sites The Mastram website does not appear to have a legal team dedicated to fighting piracy issues. Due to this reason people who want their movies downloaded legally are required to use BitTorrent clients like uTorrent and Vuze instead. Although the site claims it offers an unprecedented level of content, some users have reported experiencing delays downloading their files on multiple occasions. This has led some users' patience to wear thin and they have abandoned their subscription after several complaints. The Mastram website has an active forum, but it is mainly used for promotions, not necessarily for discussing the site's many qualities. It has over 12,000 posts across 16 topics with just less than 400 members. Some of these posts are even scattered all over the internet on websites like Reddit. The most common complaints include excessive popups and advertisements, slow server speed and overall poor quality of content available on this site. However, despite these concerns, its unique features continue to attract users in droves.
